

Chicken Report

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 03 February 2010 14:41 - Last Updated Wednesday, 03 February 2010 15:35

These Rhode Island Red beauties live in San Diego, California, with the family of Martin Woesle. These hens walk a perilous line, as Martin is the acclaimed head chef at a local Zagat-recommended eatery, Mille Fleurs. They're safe for now, though, because they provide fresh and tasty eggs for his family. Better keep popping them out, ladies!

To see how this block print was printed, visit the artist's blog